

KOR × Arcadis

A warm, active contact inside Arcadis opens two plays — joint BD in Alberta and a structural-stamping role in Mexico — on the back of a deep shared history: 11 buildings KOR engineered for Arcadis/IBI, nine of them confirmed in our own project ledger.

THE RELATIONSHIP

Omar Alcazar met Terry Gray of Arcadis Architects Canada (Edmonton) at a Ledcor client event on June 24, 2026 PRIMARY. Terry wants KOR on his teams; internally, Jim DesRoches: “we should agree to work with them.” The warmth is earned: Arcadis acquired IBI Group in 2022 WEB, so KOR's long relationship with the old IBI Group is its relationship with Arcadis today — and the portfolio below proves the depth of it. The agreed first move: Omar sends Terry the package of work KOR has done with IBI, with Islam Shabana owning BD follow-through. This dossier is that package.

THE TWO LIVE PLAYS

PLAY A

Alberta — joint business development

Terry wants to package KOR + IBI/Arcadis past work and pursue Alberta civic/government building work jointly, now that KOR is present. PRIMARY Honest read: Arcadis runs its own Building Structural Group in the west (hiring APEGA P.Eng.s in Calgary) WEB — so on some pursuits they're a competitor, not a clean sub-lane. The opening is most likely overflow, Edmonton-specific, or seismic/heritage specialty.

⚠ Ask, don't assume: which Alberta projects would Terry route to KOR vs. keep in-house, and what's live in his Edmonton pipeline?

PLAY B

Mexico City — Omar as licensed structural EOR

Arcadis Mexico is building a project team; Terry offered introductions. Omar is Mexican and licensed to stamp structural in most of Mexico. PRIMARY scope to confirm

Why it's real: CDMX requires a locally-registered CSE (structural engineer-of-record) to permit structural drawings — a closed registry a foreign firm can't shortcut WEB ISC. Mexico's own reports flag licensed technical talent, not capital, as the binding constraint.

Next: Terry to send Arcadis Mexico names (awaiting). Internal: confirm Omar's exact CSE/DRO registration & jurisdictions — the whole play rests on it.

Every project below was engineered by KOR with IBI Group / Arcadis as architect, pulled from KOR's Corporate Portfolio and then cross-referenced against our Deltek project ledger — fee, span, and logged hours — so each claim stands on our own books, not marketing copy.
