BC Housing: 62 projects, 27 worth a call

Every project BC Housing is developing, read page by page and checked against council files, permit drawings, tender notices and trade briefs. 18 structural seats look open, 9 more have a confirmed architect to ask, and we found a structural engineer named in public on only 2.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Five calls, eight prizes

On most of these projects BC Housing owns the land and picks the design team, so the way in is the architects already on these jobs.

Make these calls first

1. Perkins&Will, Jason LeBlanc: Skeena Terrace, about 1,900 homes. We have billed on projects they designed: River District 16.2, 600 Robson, 900 Granville.
2. Station One Architects, Heather Honeycutt: Kelowna 1144 Pacific and Smithers 3879 Alfred. Neither permit file names a structural engineer.
3. MacDonald Hagarty Architects, Comox: Fifth Street, Nanaimo, 201 homes, permit in review, with M'akola Development Services. The same pair used McElhanney on 355 Nicol; ask who is on Fifth Street.
4. BC Housing, Nicholas Hardy: Stratford Gardens, Burnaby. The construction manager is being chosen now and no architect is public.
5. HUMAN Studio: Rosewood Village, Richmond, 850 homes, Phase 1 (138) in review. One small past job with us.

The 62 at a glance

18 `Open` no architect or engineer confirmed yet

9 `Ask architect` architect confirmed, engineer not public

3 `Filled` McElhanney, RJC, and a modular team

23 `Built / building` too late for this phase

9 `Little structural` renovations, modular, standard design

The prizes, by homes

Skeena Terrace ~1,900 · Hall Towers 1,206 · Evergreen Terrace ~1,100 · Rosewood 850 · Skaha Assembly ~600 · Glenfair ~260 (later phases) · Robron Village ~248 · Fifth Street 201

> Not yet: Skaha Assembly (start deferred to 2029–30) and Kamloops Fortune Drive (deferred for budget) are relationships, not jobs. Kelowna Bertram's tower was cancelled in July.

RORY'S QUESTION

Nanaimo Fifth Street: the team is in place

201 rental homes at 564 Fifth Street, on land BC Housing keeps. The design is drawn and in for a development permit; the building permit and construction are 2027/28.

What	Two 5-storey buildings over one underground parkade: 34 income-based homes replacing the old Sanala Apartments, 167 near-market rentals for low and moderate incomes. 171 parking stalls.
Owner	BC Housing (Provincial Redevelopment Program).
Operator	M'akola Housing Society will manage the Phase 1 homes.
Developer	M'akola Development Services, named on the project team in BC Housing's September 2026 engagement report.
Architect	MacDonald Hagarty Architects, Comox: title block of the DP001426 drawings, issued for DP 30 June 2026.
Structural	We found none named on the drawings, in the City's file or in coverage.

Where it is	CD12 rezoning adopted 23 March 2026. DP001426 submitted 8 July 2026 and active; Design Advisory Panel, then council in the new year. Later phases depend on provincial budget approval. It replaces a cancelled 358-home, four-building scheme (DP001361) by a different team (applicant Pooni Group, architect Formline Architecture).
City contact	Caleb Horn, planner on DP001426, caleb.horn@nanaimo.ca, 250-755-4460 x4344. Jeremy Holm, Director, Planning & Development.

THE PLAY

Fifth Street has the same architect and developer as 355 Nicol, where McElhanney is the structural engineer, so the seat is probably taken. Call MacDonald Hagarty or M'akola Development Services to confirm, and use the call to get onto their next BC Housing job. We have bid to M'akola Development Services once before (the Aboriginal Friendship Centre in Vancouver) and lost.

THE ROUTE IN

How BC Housing builds

- On most projects BC Housing owns the land and picks the design team; on some a partner develops it (Chard on Douglas Street, M'akola on Fifth Street and 355 Nicol). The architect is named on the permit file; the structural engineer rarely is before the building permit. On these 62 projects we found the engineer named in public on only two.
- Construction managers come off a prequalified roster of at least 19 firms. Stratford Gardens' CM call closed 9 October with five invited: Metro Can, Ledcor, TL Housing Solutions, Buttcon West and Dawson Wallace.
- Some buildings use BC Housing's standard designs (its DASH programme): Cranbrook 217 16th Ave N and Glenfair Phase 1 in Kamloops. Who engineers a DASH building is not public; we assume those seats are not open.
- 1406 East King Edward is a modular package: a 14-storey steel modular tower designed by Stantec with Bird's Stack Modular, and Bird is construction manager.

- Redevelopments are the prize. Skeena Terrace, Hall Towers, Evergreen Terrace, Rosewood Village, Skaha Assembly and Glenfair are planned in phases over years, and each phase is a new design commission.

WHO WE KNOW

Doors we already have

- Perkins&Will (Skeena Terrace): architect on KOR jobs we billed, including River District 16.2, 600 Robson, 900 Granville and Harry Jerome Phase 1. The strongest door on this list.
- Holborn: we billed Holborn on six Little Mountain buildings, BC Housing's redevelopment with Holborn as developer. Little Mountain is finishing, but it is a BC Housing reference.
- HUMAN Studio (Rosewood Village): one small job (a tenant improvement at Davie & Jervis).
- Station One Architects: architect on two BC Housing jobs here (Kelowna and Smithers) and drew the 2021 scheme for 1577 Lloyd. No KOR history; one meeting covers three projects.
- Past pursuits, not clients: M'akola Development Services (one bid, lost) and Capital Region Housing Corporation (three bids, two lost, one open).

Ask the architect

BEFORE QUOTING

How to read this

- "Open" means no structural engineer is named in public, not that none is engaged. Engineers are rarely named before a building permit. An open seat is a reason to call, not a promise.
- Dates are BC Housing's where nothing newer exists. Its pages say they are current as of 22 September 2026; where a council decision, tender or news report is more recent, that is used instead.
- Every firm and person named here appears in a council file, permit drawing, tender notice, trade brief or the firm's own listing. Where a fact rests on a single source, the text says so.
